WELCOME

Dear Guest,

Welcome to FOG's inaugural "An Evening with Champions" dinner, presented by Konica Minolta. We could not imagine a better way to launch this event than by having a British knight and this year's Team USA Ryder Cup captain as Honorees.

Neither man needs an introduction. After a sterling playing career, Sir Nick Faldo has become golf's leading analyst and can be seen and heard almost weekly on every golf telecast regardless of network. Jim Furyk, who will lead Team USA at this year's Ryder Cup matches the last weekend of September in France, is no stranger to FOG. Jim has helped raise a significant amount for FOG over the years by auctioning off himself and the opportunity to play a round with him at Bel-Air Country Club.

Thank you for your support today and throughout the year. With it, FOG is able to continue funding golf's future at multiple levels. Historically, FOG has been a significant benefactor for both high school and collegiate golf and approaches the $9 million mark in donations. Several years ago, FOG was able to expand its footprint on the future of the game by adding our support to youth golf organizations like SCGA Junior and SCPGA Junior Tour.

As always, our heartfelt thanks goes out to not only our guests and Honorees, but our volunteers and sponsors who have made FOG a significant factor in the lives of boys and girls and young men and women who represent the future of golf and the future of our nation.

Enjoy the evening.

SIR NICK FALDO

In 1976, a young Englishman made his first appearance on golf's professional tour circuit at the age of just 19.

A little over three decades later, following a career that has included over 40 tournament victories, six Major wins and a record 11 Ryder Cup appearances, Nick Faldo is today recognized as the most successful golfer that Britain has ever produced.

Through the creation of his company Faldo Enterprises, Faldo has also become a prolific success away from the course and is currently more involved with the business of golf than ever before. The list of companies and initiatives already under the Faldo golf umbrella include: his world-renowned golf course design company, Faldo Design, currently involved with 35 projects on six continents; the Faldo Series, one of the premiere tournaments for aspiring young golfers in both Europe and Asia; the Faldo Collection of clothing, Nick's new range of golf apparel; and a number of other projects in which Faldo plays an active role.

Faldo has also been causing a stir on the airwaves, rather than fairways, having launched a new career as a television commentator. Faldo's natural, insightful presence in the commentary booth has resulted in lead analyst positions for two of the principal American broadcasters of PGA Tour golf — CBS and the Golf Channel.

Faldo captained the European Ryder Cup team in 2008.

JIM FURYK

One of the PGA TOUR's most recognizable and talented golfers, Jim Furyk was born on May 12, 1970 in West Chester, Pennsylvania. It seems like Furyk was born to play golf; his father Mike as an assistant pro at Edgmont Country club, and young Jim was raised into the game. Furyk's only golf instruction came from his father; and many note that might account for his unusual—yet effective—swing. In addition to Edgmont Country Club, Furyk also served as head pro at Uniontown Country Club.

Furyk took that homegrown golf talent to play at the University of Arizona in Tucson, where he was an All-American twice. He also led the Wildcats to their first (and thus far only) NCAA title in 1992. That same year, Furyk turned professional and the rest, as they say, is history. He joined the PGA TOUR in 1994 and has won at least one tournament each year between 1998 and 2003.

His streak took a little bit of a hit in 2004 when Furyk missed three months due to surgery to repair cartilage damage in his wrist. He soon came back into top form finishing a career-high second on the money list in 2006. Furyk truly hit his stride in 2010, winning a career-best three tournaments on the PGA TOUR that year. The most notable victory was the season-ending Tour Championship. That victory earned him the 2010 FedEx Cup. His stellar performance in 2010 won him both the PGA Player of the Year and PGA TOUR Player of the year.

Furyk's trademark looping golf swing and his deliberate approach to the game have earned him nicknames like "The Grinder" and "The Businessman." His father Mike Furyk encouraged his son's unusual swing; he didn't want to change what felt natural and comfortable. History has gone to show that Furyk's swing has been a great asset to his success on the PGA TOUR.

Furyk will serve as the 2018 U.S. Ryder Cup Team Captain—the 28th since 1927—for the 42nd Ryder Cup in France. He was a member of winning U.S. Ryder Cup efforts in 1999, 2008 and 2016.

Dear Mr. Cimbolo:

We deeply appreciate the Friends of Golf's continued generosity in support of high school golf throughout the CIF-Southern Section and in particular your financial donation to the San Clemente High School Boys' and Girls' Golf programs.

In these difficult economic times, especially in public education, it takes the financial support of generous organizations such as the Friends of Golf to help offset the costs of participation for our 67 student-athletes that compete in both our boys' and girls' golf programs. I know that our student-athletes, coaches, parents, athletic department and community directly benefit from your support.

Thank you for recognizing the importance that athletic participation has in preparing our current high school student-athletes to succeed in the future – whether it is on the golf course or off...

Sincerely,

Jonathan D. Hamro

Dear John,

We are incredibly grateful for the support of Friends of Golf and your deep commitment to SCGA Junior as well as the entire welfare of the game. Thank you for believing in us and growing our programs.

With your support, SCGA Junior has been able to develop a strong junior golf and youth development program and our programs to reach underserved youth are thriving. With your gift, we are putting instructors, coaches, role models, equipment, uniforms and more directly into the communities and our kids are benefitting.

Because of your support and belief, others are also starting to get on board. With a significant gift from the Walker Cup, we will be able to expand into yet another community in the coming years and our impact and reach will grow yet again. We are also developing more donors and resources that is leading to better programming, a larger reach and more opportunities. We simply could not and would not have done all of this without your initial investment and continued support. Thank you.

Finally, as we know Friends of Golf is also passionate about high school golf, I would be remiss not to mention a few updates. At the local level, we are continuing to engage more and more programs to offer instruction to the team members. At the regional level, one of our 2018 initiatives will be to get a lot more programs involved with our Golf Pass so that their kids can practice year round. Finally, we are engaged with the CIF to run events in both the preseason and postseason to continue to strengthen the infrastructure for the kids.

Thank you again and warmest regards.

Sincerely,

Phil Frengs
